WHAT IS HISTORY?

- History is an account of the past.
- Accounts differ depending on one's perspective.
- We rely on evidence to construct accounts of the past.
- We must question the reliability of each piece of evidence.
- Any single piece of evidence is insufficient to build a plausible account.

